Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service

F O R E W O R D

The following annual report, we believe, will inform Washingtonians about their growing stake in the agriculture of the State of Washington.

This report also reflects some of the methods` employed to deal collectively with the problems of our farmers.

It is, perhaps more than anything else, a reflection of an agricultural plant more productive than any other, and the envy of the entire world.

The basic Agricultural Conservation Program, embodying the unique Farmer Committee System, has made it possible to administer farm programs for over two decades in an equitable and efficient manner. The actions of our capable County and Community Committeemen have made this report possible.

In addition, the Performance, Production Adjustment, Conservation Reserve, and Price Support Programs, as well as capable administration, are necessary for a well-rounded farm program. Our greatest assets in A.S.C.S. include the dedicated individuals in the communities and counties, as well as the experienced and competent men and women in the State Office, who have helped to make the programs a success.

Farm organizations and non-agricultural individuals and groups have greatly aided; but basically, our program rests on those who provide the basic elements of life, and who have a certain affinity with the soil and all of nature. We salute and dedicate this publication to that group - the farmers of the State of Washington.

ANNUAL STATISTICAL REPORT OF THE 1963 AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

[illegible][illegible]

▲ May include duplication.

‡ Does not include any acreage for which assistance for these materials was given under another practice.

- Number of farms exceeds number of units because of pooling agreements.

* All data except the amount of assistance may be duplicated in the reorganization of irrigation systems in pooling agreements.

The extent represents all of the acreage irrigated on farms performing the practice.

* 0.005% or less.

★ 0.5% or less.

▲ Not adjusted for loans to the 1962 program.
